

Importance of taxa in explaining differences in chitinase production between microbial communities

